Summer of music

By CYNTHIA MATTHEWS

The 2017 Summer Concert Series at the Cornish Bandstand kicked off on July 4 with a performance by Tricky Britches, a local high-energy bluegrass band that has played around the world. On July 11, Maple Leaf Seven performed, a Dixieland jazz band out of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, made up of seven members playing clarinet, tenor sax, trumpet, trombone, piano, bass and drums.

The Summer Bandstand Series was started in the early 2000s by Charlie Churchill, who recruited community members to help run the series, including members of the Saco River Festival Association (SRFA), which took over the project in 2008. The SRFA itself was founded in 1976 by Frank and Ruth Glazer. Frank Glazer, an accomplished concert pianist, moved with his wife to her family's farm in Porter when he retired. It is a non-profit arts organization whose mission, according to their website, is to present the best in music through performance by major artists, encourage and nurture community appreciation of the arts, and develop the musical interests of school age children through meaningful educational programs in the schools. Over the years, it has provided a venue for Maine children and families who might have never had an opportunity to listen to live music or have limited means to attend such performances. SRFA has made it possible for some families to hear classical music for the first time.

But the SRFA is not just about classical music. According to SRFA President Sharon Beever, "the Bandstand Series has featured a variety of music styles including jazz, bluegrass, country, reggae, celtic, folk, dance music, and more." In fact, the SRFA has hosted over 300 musical artists. "The variety is really good," commented local attendee John Leavitt. "It's hard to find music that audiences from 1 to 100 years old will enjoy together."

Monumental upgrades

By SHELLEY BURBANK

The Tibbetts Memorial Park monument revitalization project is well underway at the corner of Main and Elm Streets in Limerick after two years of envisioning, planning, and fundraising. The park serves as one of the town's important public gathering spots, most notably on Memorial Day where a ceremony is held following the annual parade. Donations and fundraising events organized by the Tibbetts Park Revitalization Committee have so far brought in $37,000 to be used for the design, production, and installation of three granite tablets inscribed with the names of Limerick veterans from the Revolutionary War to our current War on Terror.

Vickie Carroll, committee chair, said that the list of names has been finalized after over a year of gathering names, searching historical records, and verifying military service. Carroll said the most challenging part of the process was making the list as complete as possible. "We were trying to make sure we had everyone. We know we don't have everyone's name, but we've tried really hard." Carroll researched town history books, school yearbooks, Ancestry.com and other resources to verify the names given to the committee. Some of the names were difficult to verify as sometimes families combined, and actual birth names were dropped locally so that children were known by their step-family names in school and around town. It took a lot of digging and researching to solve the mysteries, but Vickie said it was important to make sure. "The monument is a historical document, and we've spend a lot of time doing the research, so we should do it right."

The idea for the project came from the late Frank Carroll and his wife, Barbara Carroll. "Before Frank passed, he asked Tony (Carroll) to look at a veteran's park in Tamworth, New Hampshire. Barbara and Frank really wanted it to happen," said Vickie. A committee was formed including Bill Stitson, Nina Stitson, Janice Day, Denise Benton and members of the American Legion White-Tibbetts Post #55. The committee traveled to various memorial parks to view monuments and decide on a design, which ended up being very like the one Frank Carroll mentioned in Tamworth.

The monument will include a set of three granite tablets with names of veterans carved into the stone. Stone pavers will be placed around the tablets. The criteria for inclusion on the tablets – anyone who was a resident of Limerick when enlisted or drafted – was decided with the help of the American Legion White-Tibbetts Post #55. Only Revolutionary War veterans are exempt from the criteria as Limerick was a newly-formed town around that time, and some veterans came to live here or were granted land here after the war, Vickie explained. "By 1790, most veterans were on the census." For those townsfolk who want to honor a veteran who was not a resident

Alfred celebrates this weekend

Alfred's annual festival looks to the future this weekend with "Visions of the Future." The programs were created by the fifth grade at Alfred Elementary School. It includes a map of the village (in case anyone gets lost) and all the activities. Following Friday's Chili/Chowder/Pie Cook Off at 5:30 p.m. on the 14th there will be a musical performance by "Just Us," a local musical group at 6 p.m. This all takes place under the big tent which was provided thanks to kind donors.

The Lions Club breakfast under the big tent on the July 15 from 6 to 9 a.m. prepares festival goers with the strength to attend the attractions to follow – over 30 crafters beginning at 8 a.m., the Parsons Library Book sale which will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the Run/Walk for Fun which will start in the village center at 8 a.m. Also, the Parish Church yard sale being extended because so many items were left over from the last sale.

The penny raffle held in Conant Chapel will be open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Eric Ducharme, who organized this, states some of the very attractive items include a kayak with roof rack and paddle, a 32-inch flat screen television, games, camping gear, baby quilts and gift certificates from local businesses.

The Grand Parade starts at 10 a.m. The Grand Marshalls will be John and Joan Sylvester; the car was provided by Marc Motors.

Following the parade, demonstrations on the church lawn include chair caning, rock splitting, rug hooking, jewelry and the Legos Club will interest visitors.

The t-shirts will be available in the information tent for $12. A limited number will be available and they will have the logo (the church) and the theme on the front.

The Parish Church tours begin at 11 a.m. and the Kennebunk River Band will play in the big tent from 12 to 2 p.m. For the children there will be a bounce house, pony rides and games on the courthouse lawn plus a Mad Science show, "Marvels of Motion."

Missy McCarthy is directing the talent show under the big tent from 2-3 p.m.

The Alfred Parish Church is hosting the ham and bean supper under the big tent from 5 to 6:30 p.m. during which there will be a performance by MaCa (from Maine to California).

The Alfred Village Museum, with its free exhibit "The Fabric of our Lives" will be open after the parade and to 4 p.m.

The annual Conservation Commission Family Picnic on Brothers Beach will be held at noon until dusk, off route 202. The Commission provides hamburgers, others bring food to share.

A concert, "Simple Gifts" will be held in the Shaker Museum from 5 to 7 p.m. At 5 p.m., people are invited to bring their instruments and sing along. The concert by Andy Happel starts at 6 p.m.

This is the 169th anniversary of "Simple Gifts." Donations will benefit the Shaker Museum and the Simple Gifts Music Festival.

New books

To relax after the festival is over, here are some new titles at Parsons Memorial Library. "Nighthawk" by Clive Cussler; "Silver Hitch" the latest from Linda Greenlaw; "Come Sundown" by Nora Roberts; "Extraordinary Adventure" by Daniel Wallace; "Before We Were Yours" by Lisa Wingate; "After the Fall" by Julie Cohen. "Beach House for Rent" by Mary Alice Monroe; "Gwendy's Button Box" by Stephen King; "Murder Games" by James Patterson.

For the children there is "Hattie and Hudson" by Maine author Chris VanDusen; "Lionhearted" by Richard Collingridge.

Parish church

The Meditation Group will meet Wednesday evenings through August from 7 to 8 p.m.

The Support and Bereavement Group will meet at Alfred Parish Church on Thursday mornings at 10 a.m. For information call 459-5155.

Historical society

The Limerick Historical Society is halfway through their 2017 program schedule. The next scheduled event, a Historic Village District walk, will be held Saturday, July 15. Del Floyd will lead the walk, giving information about each building on Main Street. Tours begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Academy at the top of Main Street. The Brick Town Hall, Moore Building, Congregational Church (with sale going on) and the Academy Building will be open to the public from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

The Limerick Historical Society continues its efforts to repair the Academy Building, and increasing membership and renewing memberships is another priority at this time. For anyone interested in joining or renewing, or if you have an interest in a fundraising project or an upcoming historical document project regarding Jane Lougee Bryant's papers donated to the society, please contact the society at Limerick Historical Society, P.O. Box 83, Limerick ME 04048, by email at info.limerick.hs@roadrunner.com or by phone at 793-2227.

Summer reading

The Limerick Public Library is in full summer swing with children's programming and a new photography art exhibit. The summer reading program this year is called "Build a Better World." Special craft and technological classes are being offered throughout the summer, including "Build a Coin Bank" on Wednesday, July 19, from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Participants should be age 9 and up. All that is required for the coin bank project is that the child bring a hammer.

Another skill-building program called "Fun With Bee Bots" will be offered on Wednesday, July 26, from 3-4 p.m. Mrs. Danae Secunde, a teacher from Line Elementary School, will teach the program. A Bee-Bot is a robot that allows children to discover very basic interactive coding by using buttons that tell the robot how to maneuver around a map to the finish line. This program is perfect for children from kindergarten to fifth grade.

Upcoming August events will give kids the opportunity to build a fairy house and a crystal radio.

All summer building events require registration. Children are encouraged to sign up for the summer reading program. This year they can earn stamps on a record sheet for the reading they accomplish each week.

Garden tour

The biannual Limerick Garden Tour kicks off Saturday, July 22 at 10 a.m. and will be open through 3 p.m. For $10 you can take a long, inspirational (or envious) look at seven local gardens. Each garden has its own style, and walking the grounds of these exceptional spaces is sure to give both novice and experienced gardeners some ideas for their own gardens. Maps/tickets can be purchased at the library, Nature's Way Greenery, or the Hungry Hollow Café. All proceeds benefit the library.

Photography exhibit

A new photography art exhibit is on display in the library, as well. The photography of Eileen Kearney will be on display through July. Some of the photographs have been shown in Boston, and the library is pleased to be able to display these wonderful pieces of art to the Limerick community.

Parks & Recreation

Looking forward to fall already, Limerick Parks and Rec Soccer sign-ups have started for the 2017 season. Registration for children ages pre-K to eighth grade is available at the Limerick Municipal Recreation Director's Office on Tuesdays, July 18 and 25, from 5-7 p.m. The office is located in the basement of the Limerick Town Office. The cost is $40 per child or a cap of $75 per family. Skills & Drills practices are optional and will be held the first three weeks of August. Regular practice for all teams starts the fourth week of August. Limerick Parks & Rec can be found on Facebook @Limerickparksandrec.

Learn to write poetry

Published poet Stephen Malmude is offering his poetry workshops again this summer. The workshops will be held on the second Thursday of every month from 6:30-8 p.m. in the Limerick Public Library meeting room. If interested, please sign up at the library.

Legion baseball squad wins 5 of last 7

By MICHAEL DEANGELIS
mdeangelis@waterbororeporter.com

After an 0-2-1 start, Massabesic's American Legion Baseball team put itself right back in the thick of the playoff race by winning five of their next seven.

They grabbed their first win, coming from two runs down to win 4-2, back on June 29 at York. Jake Gregoire got the win, had two hits and scored two runs. Brandon Dyer pitched two hitless innings in relief for the save. Adam DeAngelis and Ryan Townsend each drove in a run.

On July 6, Massabesic made it two in-a-row as they topped Biddeford/Saco (B/S) 1-0 using the same formula as their first win. Gregoire went five innings and Dyer finished with two to combine for the shutout. The lone run came in the fourth as Gregoire led with a wall-ball double and was chased home by a double from Dawson Renaud.

The game against B/S began a stretch of six games in six days, but it didn't deter the suddenly hot crew from Massabesic. They swept a double header at home against Thornton Academy on Saturday, July 8.

They took game one 4-2, coming from two runs down to plate four in the fifth and they turned game two into a laugh with

STANDINGS
(as of 7/13/17):

- Wells 9-4
- Marshwood 7-5

- MASSABESIC 5-4-1
- Biddeford 5-8-1
- Sanford 3-9

two runs in the second, three in the third, two in the fourth and four more in the sixth to post an 11-1 win. Renaud got the save in game one and he pitched a scoreless inning in game two. Ethan Daigneault had three hits and got the win in game two.

Thornton Academy (TA) got a measure of revenge with a 6-5 walk-off win at home on Monday, July 10. Renaud hit a long homer in the bottom of the sixth to put Massabesic up 5-4, but the euphoria was short lived as TA plated two runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Massabesic responded to the tough loss at TA with gritty 10-9 win over Noble the next night, Tuesday, July 11. Noble scored three runs in the top of the first, but Massabesic had a huge bottom half, scoring eight times to go up

8-3. Noble chipped away at the lead and they got even at 8-8 as the game got into the late innings. Massabesic got a run on clutch base hit from Braden Daigneault to go up 9-8, but Noble scratched out a run in the top of the sixth to tie it at 9-9.

Noah McGrath came up big with a two-out single in the bottom of the sixth to put Massabesic ahead to stay 10-9. Derek Coulombe pitched the first three innings and chipped in with two RBI and two runs scored. Dyer pitched a scoreless seventh to close it.

Wells handed Massabesic a 7-2 defeat on Tuesday, July 7.

Massabesic was scheduled to finish their regular season with a double header at Marshwood on Thursday, July 13 and a split double header on Saturday with one game at Sanford and the next at Marshwood. An additional double header versus York was pending.

Massabesic American Legion Baseball is coached by Mike DeAngelis, Bruce Coulombe, Paul Dyer and Leon Renaud and is sponsored by Kasprzak Insurance Company and Kasprzak Builders.

BANDSTAND

“Attendance at the concerts has grown substantially over the years,” added Beever. Tricky Britches, a local favorite, drew over 350 people. “Tricky Britches was the first band to open for us and has been the first band of the season ever since.” Located in Sacopee Valley, SRFA are at a crossroads between Cumberland, York and Oxford Counties, as well as towns in New Hampshire along the Maine border. “The community gets out and does something together,” said Leavitt. “We don’t have enough community activities that people can attend without paying for it.”

Admission is free. “Children receive free toys such as bubbles or beach balls,” Beever said. “Anyone with kids knows that you risk blowing money when you try to introduce them to new things,” said Leavitt. “The bandstand allows you to take children to a music show and you’re not out a cent if they need to leave early or simply don’t like it.” He continued, “We know Gordon (Leavitt’s five-year-old son) likes music from his experiences at the bandstand, so this year we bought tickets to the Ossipee Valley Music Festival without fear of wasting our money on something he may not like.”

The SRFA sells pizza slices from the Sacopee Valley House of Pizza at the concession table, as well as baked goods and other snacks, bottled water and soda. Donations are welcome and all proceeds benefit local music and arts programs.

This year, the SRFA provided Sacopee Valley students with kits to repair instruments, funds to purchase new ones, music scholarships for students to attend music camps, and transportation to attend the Portland Symphony Orchestra. They also sponsored a puppet show by The Frogtown Mountain Puppeteers.

The Cornish Bandstand is located at the Old Cornish Fairgrounds on Route 25, next to Bangor Savings Bank. The bandstand itself was built in 1998 as an Eagle Scout project by Jonathan Beever, Sharon Beever’s son. “When our two kids (Jonathan and Kate) were little, we had friends who lived in Guilford, New Hampshire. We would visit often during the Guilford Old Home Days,” explained Beever. “As part of Old Home Days, they held an evening bandstand concert. Jonathan had fond memories of those times and wanted to bring something like that to his own community.” The bandstand is now owned by the town of Cornish, and the Fairgrounds Committee maintains it. As it is at the Fairgrounds, there is lawn seating – bring your lawn chair or a blanket to sit on. And you may want some bug spray! If it’s raining, concerts are held down the road at the Sacopee Valley Middle School, 137 South Hiram Road, in Hiram.

Mark your calendar for the rest of the concerts in the season. Concerts are on Tuesday nights at 7 p.m. “It’s a great Tuesday thing to do for everyone!” added Leavitt.

Here is a list of the upcoming concerts:

- July 18 - Keanu Keanu, a 60’s-80’s Dance Band from Portland.

- July 25 - Northwood, a four-member acoustic group from Portland, playing Bluegrass/Folk.

of Limerick at the time of service, stone pavers can be purchased which will be incorporated into the monument design.

The park itself has a fascinating history. The land was donated by Minnie Walker who was a housekeeper for Hermann K. Tibbetts. Tibbetts sold Walker the property before he died in 1935. His son, Hermann K. Tibbetts, Jr. was the first Limerick person killed on December 7, 1941 at Pearl Harbor. In 1945, Minnie Walker donated the land, deeding it to a corporation to be organized for the purpose of creating a vet-eran’s park. The corporation never formed, the town took the land for back taxes, and eventually Tibbetts Memorial Park was created and a small stone monument erected.

In 2016, the current committee was formed and given permission from the town to start the revitalization project. A kick-off barbeque was held in August 2016 at F.R. Carroll’s “beach” on Rt. 11. Although Frank had passed away that same week, the family was adamant that he would have wanted the barbeque to go on, and $8000 was raised by donation at the event, a testimonial and tribute to the man who cared so deeply about the town and whose vision it was to update the park. Other fundraising efforts over the next year raised the remainder of the funds needed to cover cost of the monument.

The park itself also needed some work. The stone wall, which was built after the Bicentennial in 1976, was protruding in the center. The committee asked local experts if it could be repaired. The decision was sensitive as a time capsule had been placed behind the wall in 1976, not to be opened for fifty years. “We had to make sure the time capsule was not disturbed,” said Vickie.

Work began June 2017. With town approval, Mike Carroll and his crew pulled up the seats, monument, and bushes. Aaron and Tony Carroll used their log truck to take the wall down. Jason Demoss of Demacon Construction began rebuilding the wall. Vickie said she has sent the latest list of 565 names to be engraved onto the tablets. Those who died in combat will have a star engraved after their names. Dedication of the monument and park is set for Memorial Day 2018, and Vickie and the committee hope that many people get involved in the parade and Memorial Day ceremony in the park next year. “It would be great if organizations and people could dress up as historical figures or recreate pieces of Limerick history for the parade next year.”

Vickie said that the most rewarding part for her was coming to understand the unity of the town in difficult times. “It is realizing how people came together through losing members of the community,” she said. “We lost seven people in World War II, thirteen in the Civil War, two in Korea, and one in the Philippine Insurrection. Imagine the impact of losing that many people in such a small town.”

This year the community has had a chance to come together to revitalize this important piece of town history, and there is room for more to get involved and to support the effort. The Tibbetts Park Revitalization Committee will be holding another barbeque on August 5 from 4-6 p.m. at the F.R. Carroll “beach.” The event is free and donations will be gratefully accepted.

OBITUARIES

Dorothy J. (LeBlanc) White

Dorothy J. (LeBlanc) White, known as Nany or Dotty, passed away at the age of 93, in the comfort of her home with her family by her side.

Dorothy J. White

Dotty was born on April 25, 1924 in Salem, Massachusetts the daughter of the late Ruby (Colbroth) Jones and Adolphus LeBlanc. She had one sister, Marie Fortin who is deceased.

Dorothy grew up in Amesbury and Lynn, Massachusetts; graduating from Lynn English High School. She married her childhood sweetheart, Frederick J. White and they shared 60 years together before his passing in 2007. They made their home in Beverly, Massachusetts and were blessed with three children.

First and foremost, Dotty was a proud woman who cared for her family. She did work outside the home for several years at Almy's Department Store, where she was an attentive and friendly clerk in the cosmetic division. Dotty was an animal lover; she always had two dogs at a time and her cats. After she retired, she and her husband traveled and experienced new adventures, yet always summered on the lake in Waterboro for 64 years. Dotty had a special place in her heart for her grandchildren and great grandchildren; as they were nurtured and loved (and spoiled sometimes) by Nany.

She is lovingly survived by her children, Timothy and wife Ellen of Waterboro; Laurie and the late Linwood A. Moulton, III of Alfred; and Catherine Ryder and husband David of Beverly, Massachusetts; her grandchildren, Kimberly Busch and husband Christian; Erin White and Lesley White; the late Kelly Richards; Gary and Vicki Richards; Sean and Katie Ryder; her great-grandchildren, Haley and Taylor Richards; Emma and Connor Busch; and Gwynn and Gabrielle Lovelace; and several nieces, nephews and friends.

Friends were invited to visit and share memories and photographs with Dotty's family on Thursday, July 13 at the Autumn Green Funeral Home, 47 Oak St., in Alfred followed by a reception at her home.

With Dotty's love of animals, in lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Bosler Human Society, P.O. Box 12, Baldwinville, MA 01436.

To leave a message of condolence for the family, visit www.autumngreenfuneralhome.com.

The Autumn Green Funeral Home is respectfully handling arrangements.

Check the record

The people of Maine voted and passed citizen initiatives last November. Our legislature has decided that the vote of the people does not matter. We the people voted to tax the wealthy 3 percent to pay for our underfunded school system. We the people said we want to change the way our representatives are chosen by enacting the Ranked Choice Voting process. Rather than heed the voice of the people, the legislature is making it more difficult for citizens to put an initiative on the ballot.

If the legislature would do the work we send our representatives to Augusta to do, we citizens would not need to take matters into our own hands. Did your senator or representative vote to eliminate the surcharge on the wealthy, thereby keeping our schools underfunded? Did your senator or representative cast a vote to repeal the Ranked Choice Voting law we passed? If so, it's time we have people in Augusta that hear our voice. Check the voting record of any incumbents running for office to see if they are listening to us or if they hear the jingle of contributions from corporate lobbyists.

Thanks for water

The Cornish Historical Society and Cornish Fairgrounds Committee would like to express sincere thanks to Poland Spring for supplying bottled water to the nine teams that played in the New England Vintage Base Ball Festival on June 24-25. We appreciate the company's interest in local community activities, especially as it is very important to keep these players well hydrated on a warm day when they are playing spirited base ball in wool uniforms - the way it was played in the 1860s! Proceeds from the festival fund activities of the historical society and improvements to the historic Cornish Trotting Park. Thank you Poland Spring for helping to make our day a success.
